

Jan. 6, 1st Filing Date For Village Elections

Next Monday, Jan. 6, will be the first day for candidates to file for the village elections set for April 15.

There will be elections in each of the area communities, New Lenox, Frankfort, Mokena and Orland Park.

With Jan. 6 being the first day for filing the last day will fall on Feb. 10. These dates are earlier than usual. With Feb. 10 the last day for filing nominating petitions, the candidates will have a couple of months in which to make their campaigns.

New Lenox will elect three trustees this year. In the other three villages, Mokena, Frankfort and Orland Park mayors will be elected as well as trustees.

At Frankfort the terms of Mayor Glenn Warning, and Trustees Lynn Kohlhausen, Jerry Francis and John Topp expire next April. Topp is serving out the term of James McEmore, who resigned from the board when he moved away from Frankfort. Topp had previously served on the board but chose not to run again when his term expired in 1967. The term of Village Clerk Walter Pfaff also expires in April.

At Mokena the term of the mayor, Eric Book, terminates next spring as do the terms of three trustees, Roy Richardson, George Bills, and Clarence Zugenbuehler, and the village clerk, Alvin Sorensen.

1st Child Of Year To Win Prizes

The first child born in 1969 of parents who reside in Frankfort, Green Garden, New Lenox or Orland townships will receive numerous prizes donated by various merchants of the area.

The parents, the attending doctor or some member of the family must call the Graphic Newspapers office at Mokena before noon of next Monday, Jan. 6, and report the birth.

In the event of a multiple birth the first born picks up the prizes.

Telephone numbers of the Mokena office of the Graphic Newspapers are: 312-479-9321 or 479-9451.

- NOTICE -

In addition to our regular daily hours of 8:00 a.m. to 6 p.m., you can NOW call in Classified Ads Saturday mornings from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 Noon. CALL (800) 942-1887 TOLL FREE. The call will automatically be billed to Graphic Newspapers.

At Orland Park the terms of Mayor Melvin Doogan, will expire. Also expiring will be the terms of all the trustees with the exception of W. Joseph Henely. The term of Jon Anderson, Village clerk also terminates.

At New Lenox three trustees will be elected. Those not serving whose terms will expire in the spring are Robert Randolph, Jack Batson and Wilbur Thackrey. Mayor Joseph Hartung, three trustees, Earl Schroeder, Robert Wysock, and Francis Miller, and Village Clerk Marjorie Wajchert were elected in 1967.

The largest number of candidates will be elected at Orland Park for the simple reason that several trustees there are filling unexpired terms.

Clifford Mehling, Elston Oranger and the former Mrs. Grace Berry were elected trustees in 1965. Doogan was elected mayor then and Anderson the village clerk.

Mrs. Berry resigned after the 1967 village election when she moved to California. Roger Frantz was appointed to her place so his term will end in April.

Henry Moorehouse resigned about a year ago when he moved to Michigan and his place was filled by appointment of Robert Bibeau.

Moorehouse, Anthony Kozak, and Henely were elected trustees in 1967, and Henely is the only one elected then still on the board. Kozak resigned several months ago when he moved to the north suburbs. His place has been filled by the appointment of Eldon Shimek. The posts held by Shimek and Bibeau are unexpired terms so the ones elected for them will have two years to serve.

So far none of the office holders in any of the area communities whose terms expire in April have indicated officially whether they will seek re-election or whether they will retire from the political lists. Rumors, of course, have all of them running, none of them running and some yes and some no.

Those who have been asked if they are candidates remark that it is a little early. That it is a long time between now and Feb. 10, the last day of filing.

It is expected, however, that next week should see some of them making announcements, especially if they are going to seek re-election. Political observers point out that candidates who hesitate too long can lose supporters.

Diocesan Board Expects Crowd At Jan. 13 Meeting

The Joliet Diocesan School Board announces a change in the place of its meeting Jan. 13.

It will be held at St. Charles Borromeo Seminary, Rt. 53, in Lockport Township, at the north edge of the Lewis College Campus.

Father Niles Gillen, O. Carm., superintendent of schools of the Joliet Roman Catholic Diocese, said that the meeting place has been changed to better accommodate the numbers expected to attend.

Jan. 13 is the date when the diocesan board is scheduled to announce its decision on a recommendation that Providence High School in New Lenox, and Immaculate Conception High at Elmhurst be closed.

There are 10 Catholic high schools in the diocese and a recommendation has been made that two of them be closed. The two schools mentioned are the ones included in the recommendation.

It is no secret that some parochial schools are having a difficult time in meeting expenses in many areas and the same is true of tax supported public school systems. What is to be the final outcome is a problem that educators are finding quite difficult to solve. The Catholic schools have fewer order teachers, of both sexes, with which to staff schools. They have to hire more lay teachers each year and to do that they have to compete with the salary schedules of the public schools.

Since it was disclosed several weeks ago that Providence high had been selected as one of the two schools to close the student body there and the parents have been seeking to prevent it by raising sufficient funds to keep it going. How successful they have been probably will be decided at the meeting Jan. 13, it was pointed out.

New Name, Location For Lumber Company

A new building materials supply center will be constructed on 191st St. east of Mokena by the Big Buck Lumber Co., formerly Welsch Lumber Co. Ground was recently broken at the new site.

Located on a 10 acre site, the new center will have over 50,000 square feet under roof, of which 15,000 feet will be heated combination display-storage areas. Construction will be completed sometime in mid-1969 according to William Welsch, president of Welsch Lumber, at which time Welsch Lumber Co. will move from its present location on Wolf Rd. to the new buildings.

The larger facility will permit a more complete line of builder and home owner supplies to be made available, it was said. Building supplies, are by nature, very bulky and require considerable space to warehouse and adequately display, Mr. Welsch explained.

"With the added display space we intend to offer the consumer a one-stop 'Better Living' center with everything under roof!" he said.

This will be the third move for Welsch Lumber. It originally began operations in 1950 in the building on Mokena St. now occupied by Cal-Products. The present store was built shortly afterward on Wolf Rd. and enlarged numerous times. The move to 191st St. will almost double the capacity of the Wolf Rd. facility.

The new center, to be known as a Big Buck Building Center, is an affiliate of the Big Buck Lumber Co. of Waukesha, Wis. The Big Buck Co. operates five building supply centers in Waukesha, Racine, and Kenosha, Wis., Robinson, Ill., as well as Mokena. Big Buck centers are designed to supply large volumes of building materials to the builder and homeowner in the most efficient manner. Adequate warehousing enables car load purchases direct from manufacturers to be made available to the user at lower costs than is generally possible thru conventional distribution methods, it was said.

Rollover Off I-80 Is Fatal

One man -- a passenger -- was killed and two escaped serious hurt last Thursday morning when a car went out of control and rolled down an embankment off I-80, a short distance east of U.S. 55, about two and a half miles east of Mokena.

Killed was Edward J. Johnson, 21, a Joliet Junior College student, of 907 E. Clinton St., Joliet. He was pronounced dead at the scene by Will County Coroner Willard G. Blood.

Driver of the car was William G. Bell, 2920 W. 135th St., Robbins, Ill. The other passenger was Alfonso Hardy, of Waukegan. Bell and Hardy apparently escaped injury, according to the report of Dist. 5, State Police. The pair apparently was thrown clear from the rolling car, while the vehicle landed on top of Johnson, pinning him to the ground. The car was traveling west on I-80.

LINCOLN WAY SHOPPING CENTER
NEW LENOX, ILLINOIS

Suggests Olympia Training Program

Joe Rodriguez, track coach at Lincoln-Way High School, is proposing a summer Olympic program to encourage the physical development of boys and girls, between the ages of 6 and 20, from the communities within the L-W district, Mokena, Frankfort, New Lenox and Manhattan.

The supervisor would visit each town once a week and conduct a clinic from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3 p.m. dealing with the various track and field events. Special emphasis would be placed on physical fitness.

Three nights a week - 6:30 to 8:30 o'clock - all groups would meet at the high school, with individuals working in the field of their choice. And every other Saturday there would be a track meet at the school, for boys and girls, with groups divided according to ages. Ribbons would be awarded.

For the more outstanding individuals such as Jenny Otto, David Merrick, Al Davis, Lee Erickson, Gary Moss, Steve Mangun, Terry Ryan, and others, Rodriguez said. There are meets held thruout the Mid-west that would bring the youngsters national recognition. Most of these meets, Rodriguez added, are divided by age groups, giving anyone with outstanding ability a chance for this recognition.

The program has six goals, said Rodriguez:

1 - To develop the physical abilities of boys and girls.

2 - To teach the value of physical fitness to students and parents.

3 - To develop the natural talents of all students.

4 - Encourage everyone to be active in some phase of athletics.

5 - The program would be an asset to all schools within the district.

6 - To have a graduate of this program in the future Olympics.

Rodriguez said that the Joliet Park District will not allow students from the Lincoln-Way district to participate in its program next summer.

He suggests that a committee be set up in the area and with the help of the Mokena and Frankfort park districts, and various organizations and business people, a fund be established to finance such a program.

Rodriguez estimates it would cost about $2,000. Of this amount $1,500 would cover the salary of the supervisor for a two and a half month period; $100 for awards and equipment; $100 for insurance; $100 for gasoline and use of car of supervisor in visiting the four towns, and $200 to cover costs of competing in national mid-west meets.

DOOR DECORATION contest winner. For six years now the Mokena Garden Club has conducted a Christmas door decoration competition for its members. This year's winner is Mrs. Robert Schultz, South Brightway. The Twelve Days of Christmas was the theme of this year's contest. Mrs. John Marti, Miss Doris Yunker and Walter Welsch served as judges. Following the judging members of the Garden Club and their husbands had a party at the home of the Don Guendlings, S. Brightway. The prize is a traveling cup, on which Mrs. Schultz has two legs. Should she win again next year the cup will be hers to keep.

NI-Gas Now Million Customer Company

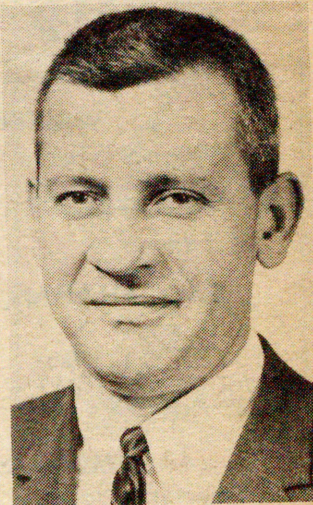

The highlight of 1968 for Northern Illinois Gas Company was the adding of its one-millionth customer, a milestone that was reached on November 22.

Customer growth, however, was just one area in which the utility continued to set records. New highs were also posted in natural gas sales, dividends and plant investment.

In commenting on NI-Gas becoming a million-customer company, William C. Rosenquist, Southern Division vice-president, said NI-Gas began operating in 1954 with 450,000 customers. Since then more than 30,000 customers have been added each year.

Rosenquist said 1968 was one of the company's best growth years. "We had a net increase of 35,000 customers, which was well ahead of the 31,000 added last year." Of the new customers obtained by NI-Gas in 1968 to push it over the million mark, 7,500 were in Southern Division, Rosenquist added, bringing the division total to more than 177,000.

In summing up the financial picture, Marvin Chandler, NI-Gas chairman and president, said operating revenues for the 12 months ended Nov. 30, 1968 were up more than six percent over those of the similar 1967 period. Record dividends of $1.58 a share were paid in 1968 on the company's common stock. Year-end plant investment, he said, will rise to about $625 million.

Despite record revenues, earnings for the 12-month period ended November 30, 1968 dipped to $2.27 per share from $2.47 for the same period a year ago. This was due mostly, the NI-Gas chairman said, to the 10 percent surtax on federal income taxes imposed during the year, and to warmer - than - normal weather. Results of the company's ammonia manufacturing subsidiary, Apple River Chemical Company, continued to suffer from severely depressed prices in the entire ammonia industry resulting from over-capacity.

In order to keep pace with the growing demand for natural gas, NI-Gas increased its daily purchases of pipeline gas in 1968 by 11 percent. This boosted its available peak-day pipeline supply to almost 1.3 billion cubic feet.

The pipeline supplies, plus gas which the company has in several underground storage areas, now enables the utility to distribute nearly 2.8 billion cubic feet of gas on a peak-day. Chandler said that on winter's coldest days, about one-half of the gas used by NI-Gas' 845,000 heating customers comes from underground storage.

To meet the constantly growing demands for gas in its service territory, NI-Gas estimates its utility construction expenditures in the next five years (1969-73) will be $288 million, the largest five-year figure in its history. In 1968 it spent about $46 million. It expects to spend about $50 million in 1969.

According to Chandler, NI-Gas operates in one of the fastest growing energy markets in the country. In addition, the increasing concern with air pollution, he believes, will further spur the use of clean-burning natural gas.

Northern Illinois Gas Company serves almost 500 communities in northern and western Illinois, and its subsidiary, Great River Gas Company, serves 17 communities in northeastern Missouri.

Libraries Offer New And Unique Service

The librarians at Frankfort and Mokena, Arlene Santoro and Elaine Rechkemmer, extend invitations to the public to visit the local libraries between now and Jan. 15.

After Jan. 15 the libraries

Stagg Grads Will Meet

Members of Stagg High School's first senior class, the Class of 1968, are invited to a coffee Jan. 2 at 7:30 p.m.

The get-together is being organized by Miss Joanne Osmond, Stagg counselor so that the students, many now freshmen in college or out on the job for the first year, can exchange stories and experiences as to what has happened to them since their graduation last June.

will have a new service, framed art prints, for free loan to all adult library card holders on the member libraries.

These prints will be available for hanging in your home for a six week period. One print may be taken out at a time, with no renewal. A catalog is available listing the prints in the collection, along with the size of each.

Also planned to be available will be a set of color slides of each print, along with a hand viewer. The prospective borrower can browse thru the slide collection and select "just the right one" to hang in the living room. These framed pictures will go only into homes. The collection is not large enough now to meet the many requests from offices, churches and schools.

Use of these framed prints could develop art appreciation and stimulate interest on the part of the borrower to the point where he may want to read books to acquire greater knowledge of the subject.

The reproductions in the collection were chosen on the basis of the importance of the original subject, it was explained, the school of painting, the significance of the artist and color fidelity and quality.

Each is individually framed to enhance the quality of the picture. The collection ranges from "Mona Lisa," to Picasso; from Rembrandt to Van Gogh; from "Christina's World" of Andrew Wyeth to "Blue Boy" of Sir Thomas Gainsborough.

This service of loaning framed prints is unique and is now available only to a few libraries in the state and country.

Little Leagers Have Big Basketball Night

The Orland Park Chamber of Commerce made it possible for nearly a hundred boys from the Orland Park OYA Basketball League to see a doubleheader basketball series at Chicago's Stadium Saturday night (Dec. 27). The OYA League was formed this year for boys between 8 and 12 years old and is comprised of ten teams with a player roster of twelve boys. The Chamber provided excellent seats and bus transportation to and from the games and nearly $500 was contributed by Chamber members of the business community.

Excitement aplenty was provided by Orland Park's own defending state AAU champion Merchants as they properly disposed of Plano (Ill.) to bring their season record to nine wins and three losses. In the windup, the world champion Boston Celtics showed the basketball prowess that made them rulers of the basketball world as they thrashed the Chicago Bulls by a 107 to 98 score.

Orland Park displayed awesome firepower in the opening game of the evening as they grabbed a 64 to 47 halftime lead and coasted from there. Plano could get no closer than 13 points as five Merchant players scored 12 points or better with Ed Modestas and Charlie Brown combining for 53. Brown led all scorers with 27 with Modestas contributing 26 and Don Schook adding 21. Final score was 114 to 92 as they outscored the pro teams.

The previous night (Dec. 20), Orland Park had traveled to Homewood and added the Mooners scalp to their trophy case with lopsided 113 to 85 final. The Mooners actually outscored the Merchants in the first half and held a 45 to 39 edge at the intermission. Orland Park took complete command thereafter and poured an amazing 74 points through the hoop in the second half with Bruce Hodges scoring 18 points during the period and finishing with 23 for the night. Again Eddie Modestas was high point man for the Merchants with 32 and Charlie Brown equalled Hodges' 23 points. Bill Kacerovskis, subbing for regular centers Bob Stoy and Don Schook, played a remarkable defensive game and also added 12 points.

Next home game for Orland Park will be Thursday, Jan. 2 at Sandburg as the Merchants host the Chicago Blue Chips for the first time this season in an eight o'clock game. The Blue Chips bring a glossy 8 and 1 record into the game while Orland is now 9 and 3 on the year.

AMA Cautions Snow Shovelers

When snow piles up, so do related problems. Among these every year is the collapse of a number of snow-shovelers.

If you are sure that you're physically fit, go ahead with the snow-shoveling task, the American Medical Association says.

But if there is any doubt, AMA suggests: Get the job done some other way. Hire someone, or use power equipment.

It is much less expensive to employ these alternatives than to risk health impairment or death, AMA emphasizes.

Even if you are physically fit, AMA notes, it is safer to use a small shovel, filling it only partly. If possible, it also is better to push the snow rather than lift it.

By thus lightening the load, it's explained, it is not necessary to tense the diaphragm and abdominal muscles. There consequently is no significant increase in pressure within the chest cavity or increase in circulatory demand within the heart walls.

Frequently, AMA says, the problem with snow-shoveling is aggravation of an existing heart condition. When such a condition exists, breathing cold air while under physical strain may cause a spasm of small arteries serving the heart.

This usually can be avoided, AMA advises, by wearing a cold weather mask or covering the face with several layers of a knit scarf. This permits warming of inhaled air before it reaches the lungs.

Even for the physically fit, it's suggested, the motto should be: Easy does it. Especially when there is a lot of snow and a large area to be cleared, do the job in stages, resting periodically.

Finally, AMA cautions, falls also are a hazard for the snow-shoveler. Footwear that is not likely to slip on icy surfaces, and making sure of firm footing before moving snow are important.

JJC Offers Day Class In Police Science Program

The new law enforcement curriculum at Joliet Junior College District 525, a program planned and coordinated by the college with the assistance of a law enforcement advisory committee, will offer a day class for the first time in the second semester.

This new curriculum, designed for students interested in a law enforcement career or persons presently employed in police work, was initiated this semester only in the evening college. Presently, 37 persons are enrolled in the two-night classes of Introduction to Law Enforcement 101 and Police Patrol and Services 102.

However, beginning in January, another law enforcement curriculum course, Criminal Law 103, will be offered from 8 to 9 a.m. every Tuesday and Thursday, as well as at night. The course will examine actual cases, sources of criminal law, attempts and conspiracy, criminal responsibility, defenses to crime, laws of arrest, search and seizure, and civil law. In addition, two sections on juvenile delinquency will be taught in the evening College.

This program has been incorporated into the school system as a part of the continuing education program of the community. It is under the supervision of the college law enforcement committee consisting of Frank Pate, warden of Illinois State Penitentiary; Robert Georgantas, commanding officer of Dist. 5 Illinois State Police; Martin Jackson, sheriff of Will County; Edward Burke, chief of police in Joliet; Sgt. Harold Pederson, police training Section of the Joliet department; Frank Matthys, chief special agent for EJ & E; Theodore Linich, chief of police in Crest Hill; Donald Ward, chief of police in Morris; Maynard Boudreau, dean of the JJC evening and summer college; Joseph Borgen, dean of occupational and technical studies at JJC; and Alfred Racchini, chairman of technical and trades department at JJC.

At present, there are two courses being offered in this program. They are Introduction to Law Enforcement 101, and Police Patrol and Services 102. Of the 37 persons enrolled in the classes, 29 are presently employed by law enforcement agencies. The remaining eight students are training to enter the field of law enforcement.

Teaching Law Enforcement 101 is Daniel Bosse, graduate of Michigan State University law enforcement curriculum. He is presently employed as assistant superintendent of instruction at Stateville Penitentiary. The other course is being taught by Sgt. Clarence Erickson, former instructor at the Chicago Police Academy. He is presently employed by the Chicago Police Department, where he serves on the administrative staff of special forces for the Chicago police.

Injured

Mrs. Cattie Birdsong, who with her husband, Klint, owns and operates Klint's Restaurant on Wolf Rd., escaped with minor injuries last Thursday when she fell from a step ladder while cleaning some shelving at the restaurant.

She received a cut on the nose that required five stitches and a number of bruises. She was taken by Gerardi ambulance to the clinic at Frankfort. After treatment she was permitted to go home.

Lincoln-Way Mathematics Dept.

The mathematics program at Lincoln-Way reflects the philosophy of the Board of Education, in that it provides a broad range of mathematical experiences for all students.

The existence of individual differences among students necessitates their proper placement. For this reason, a three track program has been established at Lincoln-Way. One track is designed for students who are interested only in enough mathematics for technical training or every day living. The second is designed for students desiring enough mathematics for college entrance and the third is designed for students desiring a strong mathematical background. Regardless of the chosen track of study, four years of mathematics is available for every student.

The department of mathematics, through the guidance of the administration, has been aware that continuous changes are being made in education and has been involved in constant re-evaluation of new concepts and approaches in light of current programs.

The extra curricular aspects of mathematics are not ignored at Lincoln-Way. An honorary mathematics club, Mu Alpha Theta, provides enrichment activities and encourages scholarship in the field of mathematics.

The mathematics contest, a unique form of competition in mathematics among schools of the Southwest Suburban Conference, offers interested students an opportunity to compete with students of comparable ability. The purpose of the mathematics contest is to recognize outstanding mathematical ability, encourage independent study, stimulate interest in mathematics, and provide a wholesome meeting ground for students of mathematics through academic competition.

The student who has difficulty in mathematics is not overlooked at Lincoln-Way. Students in the advanced classes volunteer to serve as tutors and are assigned to the department office during a study hall. They are thus available to help students encountering difficulty at any time.

The mathematics department is proud of its existing program and is constantly striving to improve upon it to effectively meet the needs of students in a changing world.

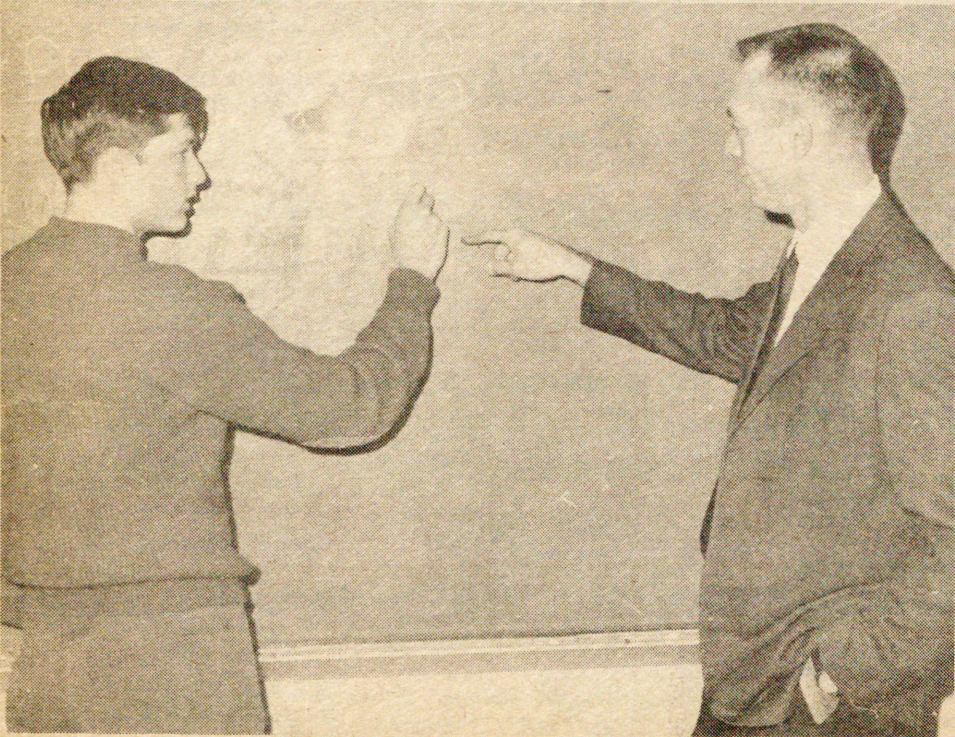

Students Plan Paper Collection

Students of Stagg High School will be collecting old newspapers and magazines on Saturday, Jan. 11.

Roberta LaSalvia, president of the Student Executive Club, stated it would help if people would call the school if they had paper so we would be sure and get them. They should call 448-8000, X-051 for pick up or further information.

STUDENT ASSISTANTS, working in the L-W mathematics office, tutor those who have been absent. Here Jim Jensen, Sue Dixon, Karen Booble and Renee Roleau, are working on an algebra assignment.

Let Parents Be Parents

The recent report to parents and citizens by A. Hunter Chapman, superintendent of Lincoln-Way High School contains three paragraphs that are most thought-provoking. We quote:

"More teachers get fired because of their inability to maintain discipline than for any other reason. Asked in a recent survey why they fired or did not rehire faculty members, 124 of our 160 administrators said the number one cause for dismissals was ineffective discipline.

"The survey also revealed that discipline is the chief concern among the nation's parents and prospective teachers. All but 700 of 3,500 future teachers said poor discipline was their main worry, while 2,152 of 2,700 parents listed it as their chief complaint against schools.

"In reporting the survey to the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Dr. Lawrence E. Vredovoe of the University of California, Los Angeles, said the problem is compounded by the increasing school population, crumbling ethics 'and a growing disrespect for law and authority.'"

If, as the survey indicates, parents are so concerned about discipline, they could do something about it at home. Whether parents are afraid of their children: have become mesmerized by the words and theories of so-called "child experts", or are unable to or refuse to accept any responsibility, it is evident that in too many homes the children are the bosses.

"My child can do no wrong," is a common belief among parents today. Parents may, as the survey shows, complain that the schools fail to discipline their charges but when discipline is imposed do the parents support the teacher or school officials or do they side with the child and loudly declare the school people are in the wrong?

It is time for a lot of parents to accept their responsibilities as such.

COLUMN OF MIST

The waterspout is not a column of water rising out of the sea, but a whirling column of air and watery mist. It really is a tornado that occurs over water rather than land, and can damage or destroy ships. Some water may be drawn up at the base of the column, but most of it is formed by condensation.

Backing up the program is an Acute Psychiatric Service at Mass General to which disturbed turn for help 24 untarily turn for help 24 hours a day. Four basic categories of mental illness have been found at the clinic, according to Dr. John R. Lion of the Harvard Medical School.

1. Borderline schizoid types with low esteem for themselves; have low frustration levels and are most likely to commit violent acts against themselves.

2. Those with a "specifically directed violence" tendency toward a particular victim, usually a spouse.

3. Those who suffer "seizure-like states" due to childhood meningitis, convulsions or head injuries.

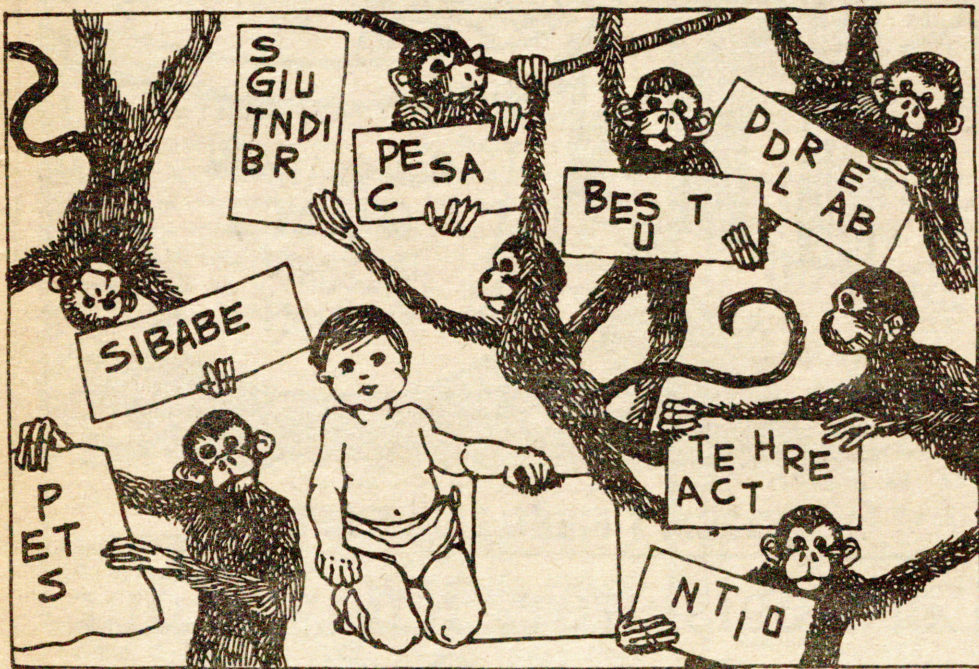

4. Those who go berserk only when intoxicated.

A great proportion of all the patients had previous psychiatric care, criminal records, possessed and used weapons and/or had histories of alcoholism, repeated automobile accidents, and used amphetamines.

Outer Space To Nursery

Copyright 1968 World Book Science Service

You have probably already enjoyed some new products and devices that were originally developed for our space program.

Live TV shows from Europe are just one example.

Now it looks like quite a number of babies will be benefiting from a space age innovation. The space travelers this invention was designed for are monkeys.

Space scientists needed a device for collecting urine samples from monkeys in orbit. Basically, that meant inserting a tube into the monkey's bladder.

But ordinary catheters, as these tubes are called, caused infections after only three or four days in the monkey's bodies.

And these little fellows were going on trips of about a month long!

New tubing was developed to solve the problem. It worked just fine. Then somebody got the clever idea of trying the new catheters out on human babies.

(The monkeys used in the space experiments are about the size of 18-month-old babies.)

Quite a few children are born with problems that have to be treated by inserting catheters into their bladders. Catheters in babies had presented the same problems as those in the monkeys.

Treatment time was limited to a few days because that's as long as the tube could be left in place without disturbing the child.

Now the doctors will have 40 to 50 days during which to take the necessary steps to save the children.

Unscramble those eight letters and you'll discover an important message from our space program.

Manufacturers Change Organization's Name

The Greater Will County Manufacturers' Association, effective Jan. 1, 1969, becomes Will-Grundy Manufacturers' Association. The decision to change the name of the Association some months ago, was announced by Robert P. Holton, president of the Association. In addition to the name change, it was also announced that the Association is expanding its office facilities and staff. Altho no address change is required, the offices will soon occupy Suites 401 and 402 of the Joliet Building, 4 East Clinton St. Joliet, Illinois.

In commenting upon the change of name of the Association, Holton said, "Increasing industrial facilities and activities in Grundy County, serviced by the Association, have led us to believe that Grundy County's name should be identified with Will County's." Since 1959, the Association has operated, geographically speaking, in parts of Cook and Kendall Counties in addition to all of Will and Grundy Counties.

The Association was known as the Will County Manufacturers' Association from its inception in 1933 until 1959, when the name was changed to Greater Will County Manufacturers' Association in an effort to identify the fact that it also operated in areas outside of Will County. This new name change has also been influenced by increasing demands from Grundy County industries that the Grundy County area be identified in the name. The Association represents some 150 businesses

Sandburg Soph Five Wins Tourney

The sophomore basketball team at Carl Sandburg High School seems to be rounding into mid-season form, if their first place finish last week in the Lockport West Soph tourney is any indication.

The young Eagles were only 2 - 3 for the season before sweeping three straight games to win the Lockport affair.

In the first game, the Eagles of Coach Paul Balcom beat Minooka 54 - 52. John Steinborn stole the ball three times in the last couple of minutes and scored the last four points to spark the yearling Eagles to their close win.

The second Eagle win was a little easier as Naperville fell 61 - 55. Randy Mason hit 25 points, mostly on outside jump shots from the and industries in the area mentioned. The membership has been steadily increasing since 1959 when the total membership was 30 member-companies.

The Eagles trounced Lemont 70 - 46 in the championship game. Terry Ver Haar scored 18 points and did an outstanding job on the boards, gathering in 13 rebounds for the Eagles. Mitch Avant scored 13 points and was "very good on defense" Coach Balcom reported.

TB Seal Needs Help

Chicagoans have been most generous in their support of the Christmas Seal campaign, said John C. Carter, general chairman for the Seal fund drive in Chicago and suburban Cook County.

"Last week in response to our Do It Day appeal residents of Chicagoland contributed a little over $20,000. to our drive," said Carter, "thereby bringing the total to $700,769.65, or 68.4 per cent of our goal of $1,025,000."

Despite the success to this point, Carter emphasized that the Christmas Seal campaign is far from over and needs the help of all people who have not contributed as yet. "Do take time during this busy season to send in your gift to Christmas Seals," he urged.

bright red corduroy tablecloth draped with silver garlands. The long buffet table was beautifully draped in white net over red and festooned with holly garlands. The centerpiece was a beautiful arrangement of holly, carnations and holiday greens in a silver bowl towered by silver candleabra. Mrs. Robert Gorsky and Mrs. Vivadelli presided at the punch table. Mrs. Anthony Kawalczyk and Mrs. Harry Tapella were in charge of the food. Mrs. Ann Bourne was decorations chairman.

The entertainment was provided by the music department of Providence High School under the direction of Sister Christopher. The blending of the traditional Christmas music by the Cecilians, a select group of junior and senior girls singing group was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Donald Nugent, President conducted a short business meeting. Brother Daniel and Sister Janet gave short talks on the goals of everyone at Providence in its effort to "SOS," (save our school). Mrs. Nugent thanked the cafeteria committee for its untiring work and asked for continued co-operation from the ladies. Mrs. Domenic Vangelisti gave a report on the success of the Bazaar Booth at the Harvest Festival and thanked all who donated making it a success.

The climax of the evening was the arrival of Santa Claus and his "Ho! Ho!" sounded very much like Dr. Robert Rock. Santa presented door prizes to those whose chairs had previously been marked. An air of gaiety prevailed throught the evening.

OK School Tax Hike In Homer

Voters of Homer School Dist. 33-C approved a 21-cent increase in the Education Fund tax rate in a referendum held Dec. 21, with 12 votes to spare.

This was the first tax increase since the district was consolidated in 1957, according to school officials. A year and a half ago the people voted the increase down.

The new Homer rate will be $1.11 per $100 equalized assessed valuation. It had been 90 cents.

There were 170 votes for the increase and 158 against it. Four ballots were reported spoiled.

A 21-cent increase in the Education Fund tax rate was defeated in Ludwig-Reed-Walsh Dist. 92, Lockport, as was a $1,470,000 bond issue to build a junior high school. A 21-cent hike in the Education Fund rate was also defeated in Wheatland Dist. 40-C.

Let Legislators Know Your Views, State C Of C Urges

The Illinois Chamber of Commerce is urging members and citizens to take an active interest in government thru keeping in touch with their representatives in Congress and the Illinois legislature.

With both of these bodies preparing to convene, and action on major issues to unfold, the Chamber urges people to "speak - up" and express their opinions to congressmen and legislators.

The Chamber points out that legislators want to help, guidance, praise and criticism of their constituents, and constituents can show their interest by expressing their opinions.

As a guide to better communication, the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce offers some tips one may find useful in writing the law makers.

Sign your name and show your address. Your elected spokesman likes to know you are a constituent and usually wants to reply.

Use your own words. A form letter is not effective.

Limit your letter to one issue. Identify it by popular name or bill number.

Be brief, but give the reasons why you are for or against the legislator.

Be courteous. A rude letter neither makes friends nor influences the legislator.

Suggest or recommend,

but don't demand.

Timing is important; send your letter when it will count most. A letter sent too early is as ineffective as one sent too late; both lose their impact.

Know what committee the legislator serves on. Committee hearings, held before the measure reaches the floor for action, give him earlier and more thorough knowledge -- also more influence on that subject.

Don't write more than once or twice on the same subject. Get others to add their voices.

Be sure to express appreciation for work well done, a good speech or favorable vote, fine leadership in committee or on the floor. Politicians are human too!

Feeding, Topic For Dairy Facts Roundup

If your dairy cows are already getting all of the corn silage they will eat and a grain mixture high in corn, what else do they need?

C.L. Davis, University of Illinois associate professor of dairy nutrition, says levels of protein and minerals are mighty important in a ration like this. Davis is appearing at the Illini Dairy Facts Roundup Jan. 9 at Blue Moon at Elgin and on Jan 10 at Redwood Inn at Kankakee. He'll make his recommendations on protein and minerals then. And, he'll have a few words about vitamins, too.

These meetings begin at 10:30 in the morning. In addition to Davis's presentation of "Feeding Cows In Corn Country" other topics to be covered by state specialists include:

- Ways To Grow Better Calves With Less Labor;
- The Importance Of Records When Sizing Up A New Bull; and
- The Dairyman's Stake In The Illinois Quality Milk Program.

This Dairy Facts Roundup is one of eight multi-county meetings being held throughout Illinois during January to get the latest information out to the dairy-men in the state. This is the first time such Roundups have been held.

Dear friends,

The gay 'Happy New Year' greeting is pleasant to give and receive. With deeper reflection, we realize that true happiness derives only from a life of creative endeavor for our fellowmen. It comes to those who "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you".

May we all live our lives so that this will be the Happiest of New Years.

No one wants to take a tumble and slip on the ice. That's why we often use salt to melt the ice. The two most commonly used types of salt used for de-icing are sodium chloride (rock salt) and calcium chloride (white flakes).

Although salt is effective in removing ice and snow from sidewalks and driveways it should be used with discretion or damage to lawns and shrubs will occur. Both of these salts will injure lawns, trees, and flowers if enough is absorbed by the plants.

As an alternative, fertilizers and plant food materials can be used as de-icers.

Sample materials include: urea, a 48 per cent nitrogen fertilizer; ammonium nitrate, a 33 per cent nitrogen material; and ammonium sulfate containing 21 per cent nitrogen. While most any form of inorganic plant food material could be used, these three are particularly well suited for the job.

The theory behind using the nitrogen compounds is that they are available for plant food after they have served as de-icers. Of course, they should be used sparingly . . . same as the chloride salts . . . you can also kill vegetation with too much fertilizer.

When using any de-icer, use only in the amounts recommended by the manufacturer and place the materials only on the areas that absolutely need melting. Don't pile or blow "salted snow" on shrubs or lawn. As a further precaution, flush, when weather permits, the salted area with water to wash the material away before excess amounts are absorbed into the soil.

During the fall we spoke of the importance of winter protection for newly planted trees and shrubs. Since the next three months are the most critical as far as winter injury is concerned, we feel a reminder is in order . . . especially considering the current limited amount of snow protection. This winter protection is especially important for trees and shrubs that have been installed in the last three years.

When correctly installed, it provides protection from wind and sun. Cold drying winds cause death to twigs and branches not only by their intense cold, but also by their drying effect. Winter sun does its damage in a similar fashion. By heating exposed portions of newly planted shrubs, it causes a loss of moisture which can not be replaced from the frozen ground. The result is the typical winter dieback.

Wind and sun protection is readily accomplished by the erection of burlaps, screens or similar opaque barriers. Although plastic gives excellent wind protections, it does not provide for the dissipation of the sun's heat. This results in the drying and eventual death of twigs and branches. So if you haven't protected your newly planted trees and shrubs, do it soon.

Protests Proposed Vegetable Oil Tax

A proposed tax by the European Economic Community on vegetable oil and meal could be a serious blow not only to American agriculture but also to the U.S. balance of payments.

That point is made by the Illinois Agricultural Association in calling for "the most aggressive trade negotiations" on the part of the United States. The statewide Farm Bureau's board of directors has contacted all Illinois members of Congress, urging them to express their concern to those in the U.S. Departments of State and Agriculture responsible for trade negotiations.

"If hard negotiations fail to impress upon the EEC the seriousness of this threat we believe retaliatory action against key European goods should be considered," the IAA board said. "In view of the importance of agricultural trade, this is a dangerous route but it may be our only alternative at this time."

The IAA board said it understands that the EEC is about to propose a tax on vegetable oil and meal, apparently an attempt to make butter more competitive and to encourage greater consumption of the Common Market's oversupply of butter. "Such a tax on vegetable oil and meal, primarily soybean oil and meal, would have a definite and adverse affect on American exports of soybeans and soybean products to the EEC. It is our understanding that this tax would be levied whether the oil or meal is imported or domestically crushed.

"Soybeans were bound duty free by the EEC in the 1967 Kennedy Round. It appears that the proposed tax is a flagrant violation of the intent of the agreement in the Kennedy Round and is triggered by the unwise internal farm policies of the EEC.

"Approximately 40 per cent of the U.S. soybean production finds its ultimate use in foreign markets. The EEC is the largest single foreign customer for U.S. soybeans. With Illinois the leading producer of soybeans and the leading state in the exporting of agricultural products, you can see why we are deeply concerned about the threat of a tax on vegetable oil and meal in the EEC."
